From the Archives

90 Years Ago : From the November 21, 1934 issue of DX News: KYW has gone silent in Chicago and is now testing in Philadelphia. LS-2 Buenos Aires will be holding a DX test over the upcoming weekend; "this is the much talked of 40 kW transmitting station that has been heard quite frequently this fall breaking through our local stations early in the evening."

75 Years Ago: From the November 19, 1949 issue of DX News: Walter Koester of Wilmington, Del. is offering foreign postage for sale through a complicated structure; eBay was still of course many years in the future. As of November 1, the FCC reported a total of 2,035 AM radio stations on the air, plus 742 FM and 39 television stations.

50 Years Ago: From the November 25, 1974 issue of DX News: A total of 34 DX tests filled the calendar of upcoming special broadcasts. Ken Brownless explained heterodynes, and Bob Foxworth reviewed at length the Heathkit SB-620 Spectrum Analyzer. Venezuela is adopting a domestic content requirement for all its radio broadcast stations.

25 Years Ago: From the November 22, 1999 issue of DX News: A large number of members contributed to a discussion of the best and worst places to DX, reprinted in Dave Braun's "Target DX" column.

10 Years Ago: From the December 1, 2014 issue of DX News: Radio Disney is selling WQEW-1560 to Family Radio for $12.95 million; Disney had bought the station from the New York Times in 2007 for $40 million. The Wall Street Journal network is shutting down. A DXPedition report was submitted from Prince Edward Island.

WMVP is relocating its transmitted about 20 miles south to a site near Joliet, where it will diplex with the night operations of WCPT-820. The land for the current site will be sold.

Jon Pearkins jon@pearkins.com

Monday, November 11 is Remembrance Day in Canada. Traditionally, radio stations have aired a minute of silence at 10:59 AM. The 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month in 1918 was the official end of World War I. Remembrance Day honors all Canadian armed forces members who have died in the line of duty.

The Canadian Association of Broadcasters will be operating the Commercial Radio News Fund (CRNF) to direct some of the fees levied by the CRTC on audio online undertakings in Canada to help commercial radio stations produce local News outside of Canada's major markets: Montreal, Toronto, Vancouver, Calgary, Edmonton and Ottawa-Gatineau. The CRTC is accepting comments on CRNF until December 4.

630 CHQT AB Edmonton – The engineering staff reported that the station, now off the air, had been running non-directional at night with lower power for the last few months after one of their aging towers had to be removed for safety reasons. (Scott Fybush)

1450 CBKA BC Stewart – Approved to move to FM as CBUI-FM on 98.1 MHz with a non-directional 202 Watts at 3,194 feet below the average (mountainous) terrain in the area (EHAAT). The new transmitter will continue to rebroadcast CFPR-860 Prince Rupert BC. Deadline for the move is November 7, 2026. (Andy Reid)

1610 CHHA ON Toronto – A question was raised on Facebook about the station's ownership given the CRTC's requirement that churches not own radio or television stations, other than those Newfoundland stations already owned by a church when Newfoundland joined Canada in 1949. CHHA is not owned by the Catholic Church but by the San Lorenzo Latin American Community Centre, according to the CRTC.

630.1 MEXICO unID OCT 8 0703 – Het upon 630 signals. Nothing this far off at mwoffsets. Report from Tim Hall via IRCA: "Does anyone know which Mexican station is operating at an offset of 630.090? (None are currently listed on mwlist.org). In my sessions from the Nevada-Utah border at the end of October, I've got a station on 630.090 running Mexican adult contemporary (the one song Soundhound could identify was from 2020). This was at OCT 28 0200 UTC. I don't have an audio clip to share, because no announcements were heard, only music. My wire was aimed at South Texas and Colombia (121°), and the 4 surviving Mexican stations are well south of that (135, 136, 137 and 150°), but the radio blackouts were starting to lift at this hour, and stations from Mexico City and Guadalajara were suddenly starting to come in on this wire even though it was aimed well north of them. All I've got going for me is that offset. Another station (format unknown) had an offset of 630.021 kHz." [Hauser-OK]

Been away from BCB for a while. In January 2023 I jumped into the ARRL Amateur Radio "Volunteers on the Air" (VOTA) all band, all mode contest and finally came up for air when it ended in January 2024. Took a breather and thenEs eason on 6 meters. Now that it is autumn, I've fired up the SDRPlay RSPdxand t he SDRUno software and started some overnight recordings. My firstove rnight taping session was 10/17. The dial has changed somewhat in a year and first off I'm getting used to who is dominant on which channel on which antenna. The E/W Flag on the back fence is still functioning and my Wellbrook loop and rotor are still working fine as well. I've started my annual log where I keep track of the stations I've heard each year. I'm at 288 so far. I got about 50 just doing daytime DX. Highlights included local ID tapes of KJME-780 (ex-KCEG), a new station since the move to Fountain from Pueblo; KCEG-890 (ex-KJME) and KFBU-1630 (ex-KVAM) needed local call changes. Logs overnight on 10/17 XEWG-1239.6 a new one easily separable from 1240. 10/18 yielded call changes from KOTV-1170 (ex-KTSB), KKSB-1230 (ex-KBCR), KKGO-1260 (ex-KMZT) and KIXR-1400 (ex-KSRR) and new logs from KWKC-1340, KGST-1600, KUSH-1600 and back-to-back W Calls WNQM-1300 and WHBL-1330. These two appeared to have been powering up to daytime power. 10/19 Saw a call change from KSGO-1450 (ex-KZNU) and a new one in KSKK-1070 audible just on the low side of the channel. Til next time 73

Veries: 1450 WMFJ, 1490 WMBM. Both of these were heard when my locals were off due to one of the hurricanes. I also receive a nice email from 690 WQNO in New Orleans. He mentioned my "DX Report" and liked my prepared "really cool QSL card you provided." He's mailing my card back with some goodies. I remember them in the 70's as WTIX and back then they never answered by report so this will be a nice one to get. Still recovering from Milton but at least the yard debris is gone. Not much DX so this is short. 73's, Martin

Jon Pearkins, Edmonton AB

KOFI-1180 Kalispell MT went off the air at 0513 EST on November 9 after the entire contents of their transmitter building was destroyed by fire. The ATU (Antenna Tuning Unit) and towers were not damaged, so their Chief Engineer was able to get them back on the air with 30 watts the next day, allowing their FM Translator to operate continuously without violating FCC regulations. They hope to have a 1KW transmitter up and running before year end but it will be next summer before they are running their normal 50KW day/10KW night.

When DX conditions finally improved enough to pick up some other stations on 1180, I was able to hear WHAM in Rochester NY, one of the stations on my DX Bucket List. In the past, all I have ever heard while nulling KOFI has been a Cuban station, so I suspect that the recent earthquake and hurricanes have silenced many Cuban stations, including those on 1180; it has been a while since I've heard a regular here, CMBQ-530, so I suspect it is also not currently on the air.

Before KOFI moved from 930 to 1180 in 1968, WHAM was regularly heard in Vancouver. Local DXers called it "Wham" even though the station never referred to itself that way on the air. Back then, the late DXer Paul Lotsof from Buffalo sent me a recording of the station when it was simulcasting on its FM station, and the identification was different than I had heard it from Vancouver. The top of the hour ID was "WH-AM and WH-FM Rochester, New York," rather than the usual "W-H-A-M" I had heard in Vancouver. Today, the original WHFM-FM is WBZA-FM and the WHFM call letters ended up on the former WWRJ-FM in Southampton NY.

RadioJayAllen is a web site where one well-respected broadcast engineer reviews the AM and FM performance of portable radios. Even if you are familiar with the site, his new Quick Shopping Guide provides a nice summary of his Picks in various categories at https://radiojayallen.com/holiday-shopping-guide-jays-personal-picks-for-performance-and-value/

Jay also reviews the new Tecsun S-2200X. It costs a lot more and is a lot bigger than the Qodosen DX-286 but it has some additional features that really appeal to me. Most notably the ability to listen to either the Upper or Lower Sideband, which is a great way to listen to adjacent frequencies to powerful locals. Unfortunately, it will be a while before it is easily available, especially to those of us in Canada.

Jim Kauer W3FFU, Kennett Square PA (submitted with NRC renewal)

Here I am at age 97¾ still sending in my renewal at the last moment (or maybe later!).

I still tune in on the BCB as well as on the 7 and 14 MHz and higher ham bands with my old Yaesu 991A transceiver. I confess I spend more time on the ham bands than the old BCB frequencies, but I enjoy reading about BCB DXing!

The noise (static) levels in my retirement home are a lot higher than they were at my previous backyard just 2000 feet away from my new quarters. There are just a lot more refrigerators, pumps, and other static generators pumping static through the power lines. "So it goes."

Best wishes to all!

Linda Brodsky, Malverne NY

I spent quite a bit of time going over the IQ recordings I made while in CO in October and found another 9 new stations in addition to the 17 I reported in the previous Domestic DX West column. Happily, I was able to log KOFI and record the ID before they went off the air as Jon Pearkins reported in his musing.

I used a few of the CO IQ recordings to test out the SDR# AM Co-Channel Canceller, but even when I was able to eliminate the carrier on several of the locals, I didn't find other stations underneath. As I've discussed here before, I prefer SDR Console for recording and playing IQ files. I found using SDR Console's SAM, ECSS-L and ECSS-U modes with various filter widths and the adjustable gain control in the playback section, it wasn't difficult to pull out stations from under one another or to eliminate splash from adjacent frequencies. I'm curious if others have suggestions and comments about their preferred methods of digging stations out.

Unreported Stations

One more stations – WBTH-1400 – was reported to DDXD in this issue for the first time since at least Volume 67 (1999-2000). We now have only 163 currently licensed, full-power AM stations in the United States and Canada which have not been reported to DDXD during this time. The last full list was published in issue 91-18 in July and electronically in DXtra News in September.

Here is National Hockey League (NHL) flagship information for the 2024/2025 season from Internet searches. I looked for networks, and below are all those I found. As many sites had no dates, I have no idea if the network lists I found are for this season or for a previous season. I am not sure that I have all of the foreign-language stations correct.

Please send me any additions and/or correction that you find. Thanks.
